Re: MetalTreat Xtreme Corrosion Prevention System

Dear Terry and Sean,

With the construction of Around the Sea - Canada's Rotating House in 2012, we needed to rely on only the best materials available. Having 30 tonnes of steel I-beams, which form the rotating platform for our house, immediately beside the ocean on Canada's only provincial island meant that we had to protect against the very real problem of corrosion due to salt water and air.

We choose the MetalTreat Xtreme Corrosion Prevention System because it came highly recommended to us by another customer. We could have chosen many other products closer to home, but the fact that the lanolin-based product was a proven performer and non-caustic meant a lot to us.

Our steel platform, which supports everything we hold dear (literally!) has been rust-free and in pristine condition more than 4 years later and we would not hesitate to recommend this product to anybody wanting a superior rust-protection system.

Sincerely,

Steve Arnold
