Re:Metaltreat use on EIPLH jinker in Exmouth WA

Attn: Sean Ross / Corrosion Control Australia

To -whom it may concern,

in 2013 we contacted CCA regarding their product "metaltreat"

We were using an opposition product but were finding it did not last and was becoming expensive.

After discussing our needs with Terry and Sean Ross they advised us to try their new development metaltreat xtreme. After using the system we found we could get much longer periods without needing to reapply.

Over the years of using xtreme we were really happy with the performance; it actually met all of our expectations, plus the fact it was an eco friendly product was an added bonus.

The jinker was used to lift commercial, fishing and recreational vessels out of the marina for maintenance. Conditions were very demanding as the jinker was fully immersed in the ocean for a time then out onto the beach for extended periods so the corrosion was very hard to control prior to using metaltreat.

We would have no problem recommending metaltreat for marine environments.

Kind regards,

David Simmons,
Operations Manager
