RE: Roof restoration and waterproofing

We recently purchased our factory after leasing it for the last two years and the first job we needed to do was carry out roof repairs. After getting advice and quotes, we decided to appoint Coolroof Waterproof Technologies Pty Ltd to do the job as they had a way of waterproofing and insulating in one job.

The company treated rust and holes in the box gutter, the roof repairs included water run-off from the air-conditioning systems, addressing fixings and clearing all gutters.

Whilst pressure cleaning the main roof, we asked for the polycarbonate sheets to be cleaned to create improved natural lighting and this was done without fuss.

We were very pleased with the final outcome as after a recent 34 degree day, even our factory manager commented that it was comfortable working in our manufacturing area all day. This area was usually very uncomfortable after lunch time due to the heat.

As a testament to the job well done, our office manager has not needed to run the air-conditioning unit in his area as much as before and it is still rather comfortable without resorting to turning the air-conditioning on. The manner in which Sean carried out the work was both impressive and professional and thus, we have no hesitation in recommending his company for anyone requiring the relevant services.
